

DELIVERING ON OUR SUSTAINABILITY VALUE PROMISE

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Jitendra Kavathekar (00:05):

Hi, I'm Jitendra Kavathekar, global vice president of the Accenture Partnership here at Salesforce. Solving global challenges, like the climate crisis and inequality demands that all of us work together. Salesforce and Accenture are passionate about our focus on sustainability. It all starts at the top of our organizations and extends to the hundreds of thousands of employees across the globe. With that in mind, I'd like to a few of our joint team members, starting first with Laura Liberman from Accenture.

Laura Liberman (00:35):

Thank you Jit. At Accenture we rely on our partnership with Salesforce to deliver on our sustainability value promise. As we tackle the worlds most pressing issues, our continued collaboration will enable us to achieve our goals. From net zero greenhouse gas emissions, to furthering inclusion in our communities. I'm excited for you to meet some of the passionate people who are driving the success of this wonderful program.

Rachel Willoughby (01:01):

My name is Rachel Willoughby and I'm from sunny Australia. Sustainability means there will be a future for all of us to enjoy.

Krystal Guevara (01:09):

Hi my name is Krystal Guevara and I'm from New York City. In the bigger picture sustainability is about doing everything we can to take care of our planet so our planet continues to take care of us.

Ryan Nunez (01:19):

Hi this is Ryan Nunez, um, based here in San Diego. In order to create a sustainable future the action begins with each one of us stepping up at this moment to do things differently that would benefit the world.

Emily Labattaglia (01:31):

Hi my name is Emily Labattaglia and I'm from the United States. Sustainability is about making this world a better, more just and equal place. And keeping it beautiful and healthy for the generations to come.

Renata Rico (01:44):

Hi my name is Renata Rico, I'm from Sampaio, Brazil. To me sustainability means insuring a healthy lifestyle to our kids and the future generation.

Melany Morgana (01:57):

My name is Melany and I'm from the Washington DC area. In the bigger picture, sustainability is about being able to enjoy the different resources that the earth has provided us with, without compromising the needs of future generations to come.

Naeshiro Aya (02:23):

Foreign language

Kate Gibson (02:24):

My name is Kate Gibson and I am from the United States. Sustainability is about a collective contribution to insure the longevity of the world we share.

Tonya Toon (02:32):

My name is Tonya Toon and welcome to [inaudible 00:02:34] England. I'm inspired by our partnership with Accenture because our passion to stimulate change and growth is infectious.

Linna Ha (02:43):

My name is Linna Ha and I am from the United States. To me, the partnership in three words means innovation at scale.

Jitendra Kavathekar (02:50):

Those are some of the inspiring people behind our partnership.

Laura Liberman (02:53):

And it's a pleasure to be working beside them, as we strive to imbed sustainability into the core of your business.

Jitendra Kavathekar (02:59):

We are excited to be working together to make the world a better place.

Ryan Nunez (03:03):

Sustainability is our shared responsibility.

Linna Ha (03:06):

Sustainability.

Kate Gibson (03:07):

Sustainability.

Rachel Willoughby (03:08):

Sustainability is one of our greatest responsibilities.