

PARTNERING WITH DUCK CREEK

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

John Koepke, Insurance Technology Lead,

Accenture: Hello, my name is John Koepke, managing director out of Chicago. I'm our insurance technology lead, and, obviously, we do a ton of Duck creek work as part of our practice, delivering value for clients.

we've been able to do with both Accenture and Duck Creek Technologies is, utilize the openness of Duck Creek's platform, and also, infuse that with our advanced analytics capabilities to be able to generate insights.

Corey Barker, Digital Insurance Solutions

Center Lead: Hi, my name is Corey Barker. I laid out Digital Insurance Solutions Center for North America. And I partner with Duck Creek to bring the best of digital to our clients.

John Koepke: Accenture is known for complex program transformation, and all of these types of projects, whether it's policy, billing, claims are complex. So, I believe Accenture comes best prepared to drive that change. We have over 750 people that are dedicated to the Duck Creek practice. We do--have done the most implementations relative to any other systems integrator in the marketplace. We've not just invested in configuration capabilities, but it's-it's about the new IT, it's about robotics, it's about artificial intelligence, it's about blockchain. You know, we build solutions that connect to Duck Creek for all of those types of innovative technologies.

Corey Barker: So, in today's world, carriers are facing a lot of challenges with both getting data out of their existing systems, and also, how do they use that data with third party data. And, so what we-what
